

Turkey and Syria's Terrible and Disastrous Earthquakes

Family members are lost, buildings have collapsed and fallen to the ground, and survivors are left homeless and are struggling to find food and shelter. Turkey and Syria have experienced some terrible earthquakes that have left both countries' people devastated from their loss of homes and food. These earthquakes have killed thousands of people and brought lots of tragedy and terrible conditions for those left alive in the mess of rubbles and concrete that has buried loved ones who they will never see again. Rescue crews have already been brought to the scene to care for survivors and clean up the messes of rubble and concrete left from collapsed buildings but they will still need more care to save stranded and homeless people.

Because of these tragedies and accidents that have happened, BES grade 6KF have decided to have a bake sale on Wednesday March 8 to raise money for the people left homeless in Turkey and Syria. Students in 6KF are going to be selling homemade cookies, cakes, and muffins that will all cost 2 dollars each, so a toonie. All of the money they get from this sale they will donate it to the RedCross and World Vision foundations so they will have more money to help the people.

“Our teams are already on the ground responding to the immediate needs with clean water, emergency relief tents and services, and protection.” quotes the head manager of the Humanitarian programs of World

Also, if your family would like to donate any baking for our sale, we would appreciate it. Baking can be dropped off on Tuesday March 7 at the BES office.
